Dear

We have received a referral from your doctor requesting an outpatient appointment for you to see a specialist. Unfortunately, the service is currently not available at this hospital.

Your referral has been returned to your doctor who will contact you to discuss other arrangements.

Please talk to your doctor if you have any concerns about your condition.

Yours sincerely,

for

Dear Colleague

Re: Ophthalmology Services Fraser Coast Health Service

For a considerable period of time the Fraser Coast Health Service has not been able to provide Ophthalmology Services at Hervey Bay Hospital. Regrettably the hospital continues to be unable to provide any Ophthalmology services.

In order to ensure that your patients receive the assistance they need in a timely fashion it is recommended that they are referred to public hospitals in districts that are able to provide ophthalmology services, or should they elect to, to private ophthalmologists. Whilst I appreciate the inconvenience that this may present for your patients, given our inability to provide this service at this time, this would be the best option for your patients.

We will be unable to accept any further ophthalmology referrals until such time as we are able to provide this public service in the Fraser Coast. I am happy to discuss this with you and to provide such advice as I can to assist you with these referrals.

Yours sincerely
