

Every single day I read posts from victims of antisocial behaviour and criminal activity within our community on this page.

If you have been violated or know of someone who has, can you please share a brief explanation of:

- what happened
- approximate date
- postcode of where it happened
- if police were notified

I am collating all information to take to the local council as I am sick of this incessant threat to our security.

There are some of you who feel I may be wasting my time and possibly I am but I never have been one to rest on one's laurels and I want our voices heard.

Thanks in advance!

This little punk pulled up outside our place in a stolen Lexus this morning at 6.30am (AKA BROAD DAYLIGHT) and tried to break into/steal my car. He had gloves on so no fingerprints were possible but our security footage is pretty bloody clear! Police are working to identify him but I recon Facebook could be faster. Feel free to share this post, let's find this little prick. Location: Ashgrove Lexus stolen from Clayfield UPDATE: offender has been identified - thank you for your help! 🙏

This man was caught trying to steal from my sisters garage in Clayfield which was opened for literally 10 mins. He was caught in the act by my sisters partner who contained him and is in police custody.. for now! Turns out he was out on bail and wanted for questioning Be wary!

Hi all, my house was broken into in the early hours of Wednesday morning 15/01/20. I woke at 4 am to someone standing in my bedroom doorway... obviously looking for things to steal. He came in through my loungeroom window then went straight to my bedroom. I am OK and I scared him of when I woke, I am just a little shaken and still in shock but more so I feel violated and angry that someone broke into my house while I was sleeping.

Please stay safe people and ensure your house is safe and secure x
This happened in Hendra.
