Mr Neil Laurie
The Clerk of the Parliament
Parliament House
George Street
BRISBANE QLD 4000

Dear Mr Laurie

Neil,

Copies of the Placing People at the Heart of Policy – report of the first independent review of the Human Rights Act 2019 (the Report) have been provided to the Queensland Parliament Bills and Papers Office for distribution.

As the Report was finalised prior to the election of the Crisafulli Government, its recommendations relating to victims' rights do not have regard to the Government's positive agenda on victims' rights. Significant enhancements to the rights of victims have already been legislated in the Making Queensland Safer Act 2024, and the Government continues to prioritise the rights of victims as we deliver on our commitments made to Queenslanders at the election.

The Crisafulli Government thanks Professor Susan Harris Rimmer and her team for its review and Report. The Government has agreed not to implement the Report's recommendations.

In accordance with section 95(5) of the Human Rights Act 2019, the Report must be tabled in the Legislative Assembly. I request in accordance with Standing Order 31 the Clerk of the Parliament table this letter in addition to the enclosed Report out of session on my behalf.

An electronic copy of the report has also been provided to the Table Office. Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Yours sincerely

DEB FRECKLINGTON MP
Attorney-General and Minister for Justice
Minister for Integrity
