- (e) if a prescribed fee must accompany a royalty return under a regulation—the amount of the prescribed fee.

Division 2 Royalty assessments and reassessments

[s 27]

331A Assessment of royalty

- (1) The Minister must make an assessment of a royalty-related amount payable by a person for each royalty return lodged by the person under this chapter, even if the royalty-related amount payable by the person is nil.
- (2) Also, the Minister may, at any time, make an assessment of the royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period (a default assessment), if the Minister is reasonably satisfied—
 - (a) a royalty-related amount is payable by the person for the period; but
 - (b) the person has not lodged a return for the period under this chapter.

331B Reassessment of royalty

- (1) The Minister may make a reassessment of a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period if the Minister is reasonably satisfied the original assessment or an earlier reassessment made for the period was not or is no longer correct.
- (2) The Minister must make a reassessment of a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period if a provision of this or another Act applies to require the reassessment.
- (3) A reassessment increasing a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period may be made at any time.
- (4) A reassessment decreasing a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period must be made within 5 years after the day the original assessment for the period was made (the reassessment period).

- (5) However, a reassessment decreasing a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period may be made after the reassessment period if—
 - (a) within the reassessment period, the person asks the Minister to reassess a royalty-related amount payable by the person for the period and the Minister agrees to make the reassessment; or
 - (b) the reassessment is required under a provision of this or another Act.
- (6) A reassessment does not replace the previous assessment of a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period, but merely varies it by—
 - (a) decreasing or increasing the royalty-related amount payable by the person; or
 - (b) changing the basis on which the royalty-related amount payable by the person is assessed.

331C Making assessments and default assessments in particular circumstances

- (1) The Minister may make an assessment of a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period on the available information the Minister considers relevant.
- (2) Subsection (3) applies if—
 - (a) the Minister makes a default assessment of a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period; or
 - (b) the information given by a person in a return or another document relating to the return is insufficient to enable the Minister to determine a royalty-related amount payable by the person for a period; or

[s 27]

- (c) a person fails to give the Minister information or a document required to enable the Minister to determine a royalty-related amount payable by the person for a period.
- (3) The Minister may make an assessment of the amount the Minister reasonably believes to be the royalty-related amount payable by the person for the period.

331D Notice of assessment or reassessment

- (1) The Minister must give notice of an assessment or reassessment of a royalty-related amount payable by a person for a period (an assessment notice) to the person.

- (4) The assessment notice must include—
 - (a) the amount of the difference between the royalty-related amount paid and the royalty-related amount payable for the period (the liability difference); and

- (b) the day by which the liability difference must be paid (the due date); and
 - (c) a statement that, under section 332, unpaid royalty interest is payable on the amount of the liability difference, to the extent it is comprised of royalty unpaid from time to time, for the period—
 - (i) starting on, and including, the day after the lodgement day; and
 - (ii) ending on, and including, the day the liability difference is paid in full; and
 - (d) the rate at which the interest is payable; and
 - (e) the royalty penalty amount for which the person is liable under section 331E.
- (5) The due date must be at least the following number of days after the day the Minister gives the notice to the person—
- (a) for an assessment other than a reassessment or default assessment—7 days;
 - (b) for a reassessment or default assessment—28 days.
- (6) In this section—
- lodgement day*, for a period, means the day a royalty return must be lodged by a person for the period (disregarding any extended time for lodging the return provided for by regulation).

[s 27]

- (a) the Minister makes a default assessment under section 331A(2); or
 - (b) the Minister makes a reassessment and the original assessment was a default assessment under section 331A(2); or
 - (c) the royalty payable by the person for a period on a reassessment under section 331B is more than the royalty assessed as payable by the person on the original assessment, or an earlier reassessment, for the period.
- (2) The royalty penalty amount must be assessed as follows—
- (a) if subsection (1)(a) applies—an amount equal to 75% of the royalty payable;
 - (b) if subsection (1)(b) applies—an amount equal to 75% of the royalty payable under the reassessment;
 - (c) if subsection (1)(c) applies and the royalty payable on the reassessment is more than the royalty assessed on the original assessment—an amount equal to 75% of the difference between the 2 amounts;
 - (d) if subsection (1)(c) applies and the royalty payable on the reassessment is less than the royalty assessed on the original assessment but more than the royalty assessed on an earlier reassessment—an amount equal to 75% of the difference between the royalty payable on the last reassessment and the lowest royalty assessed on an earlier reassessment.
- (3) The Minister may increase the royalty penalty amount by not more than 20% of the royalty penalty amount assessed under subsection (2) if the Minister is reasonably satisfied the person has

331F Royalty penalty amount not payable if proceeding for offence started

- (1) This section applies if a person is liable to pay all or part of a royalty penalty amount because of a particular act or omission of the person.
- (2) If a proceeding is started against the person for an offence under this Act that is constituted by the particular act or omission and the royalty penalty amount has not been paid, the royalty penalty amount is payable only if the Minister withdraws the proceeding.
- (3) If a proceeding is started against the person for an offence under this Act that is constituted by the particular act or omission and the royalty penalty amount has been paid, the Minister must make a reassessment remitting the royalty penalty amount to nil.
- (4) However, if the proceeding against the person is withdrawn, the Minister must make a reassessment to reinstate the royalty penalty amount remitted under subsection (3).

331G Remission of royalty penalty amount

The Minister may remit the whole or part of a royalty penalty amount.

[s 32]

- (5) However, if, on the date for payment under the garnishee notice, the garnishee amount is not held for, or is not liable to be paid to, the liable person by the garnishee, the notice has effect as if the date for payment were immediately after the date the amount is held for, or is liable to be paid to, the liable person by the garnishee.
